“Cal-Med Pharmacy couldn’t run its business as successfully without an RMS POS system.

We use the system to manage our entire inventory. If products aren’t selling, we know it, and can move them out and something else in. With RMS, we have total control over everything in the store from cash management and employee accountability to merchandising and promotions. The deep knowledge the system provides enables us to make informed decisions quickly, and to be more profitable as a result. The system pays for itself in the profits gained.

The support team at RMS is made up of incredibly bright individuals with great people skills. Unequivocally, the RMS service personnel listen, resolve issues, and best of all – they can talk to any one of our employees.

With an RMS system, you will immediately have the tools with which to make smarter, informed business decisions.”
